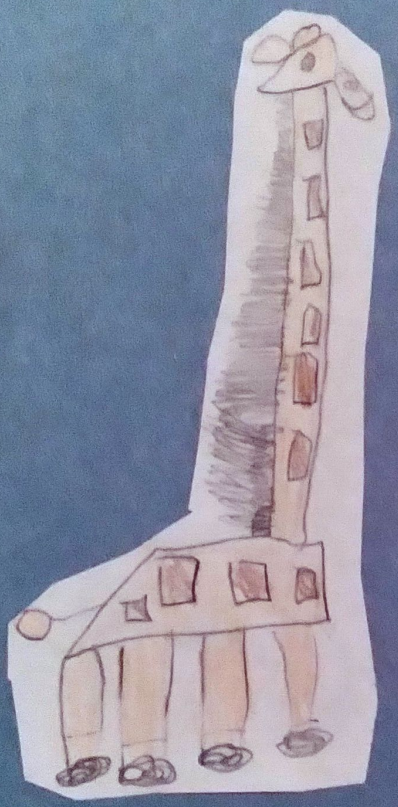
Graf and Fox



Ri

oands upon a time
Graf was bie swing eating choclit. The and Then he saw a Swing was mising.

wut haphn?

Arar lookT a the Slid the myke Bars
the more Go rond
dhd The bench. but Thar had misen
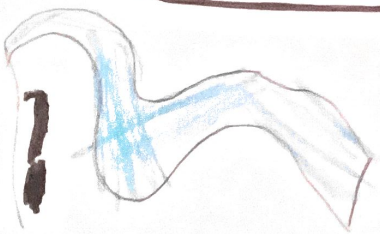
Prts To.

The Latr iz mizeh

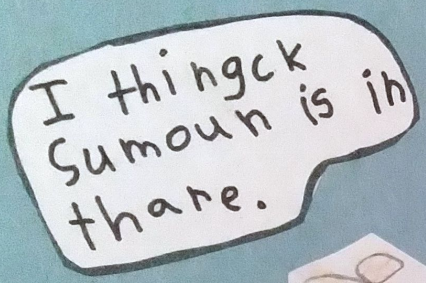


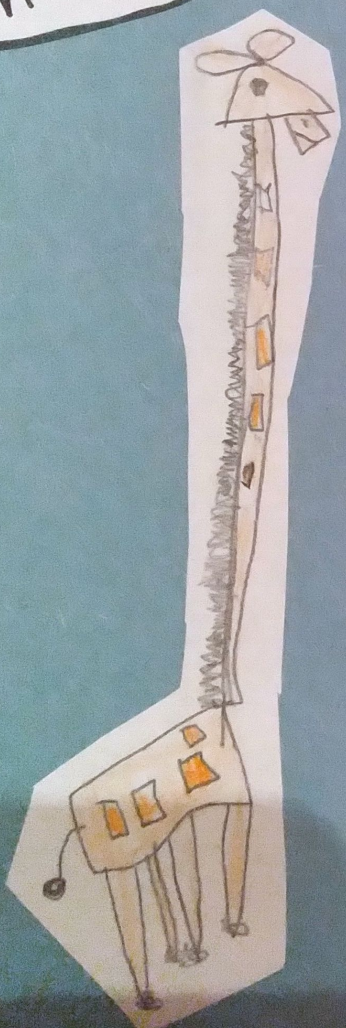
The ghs Are misen

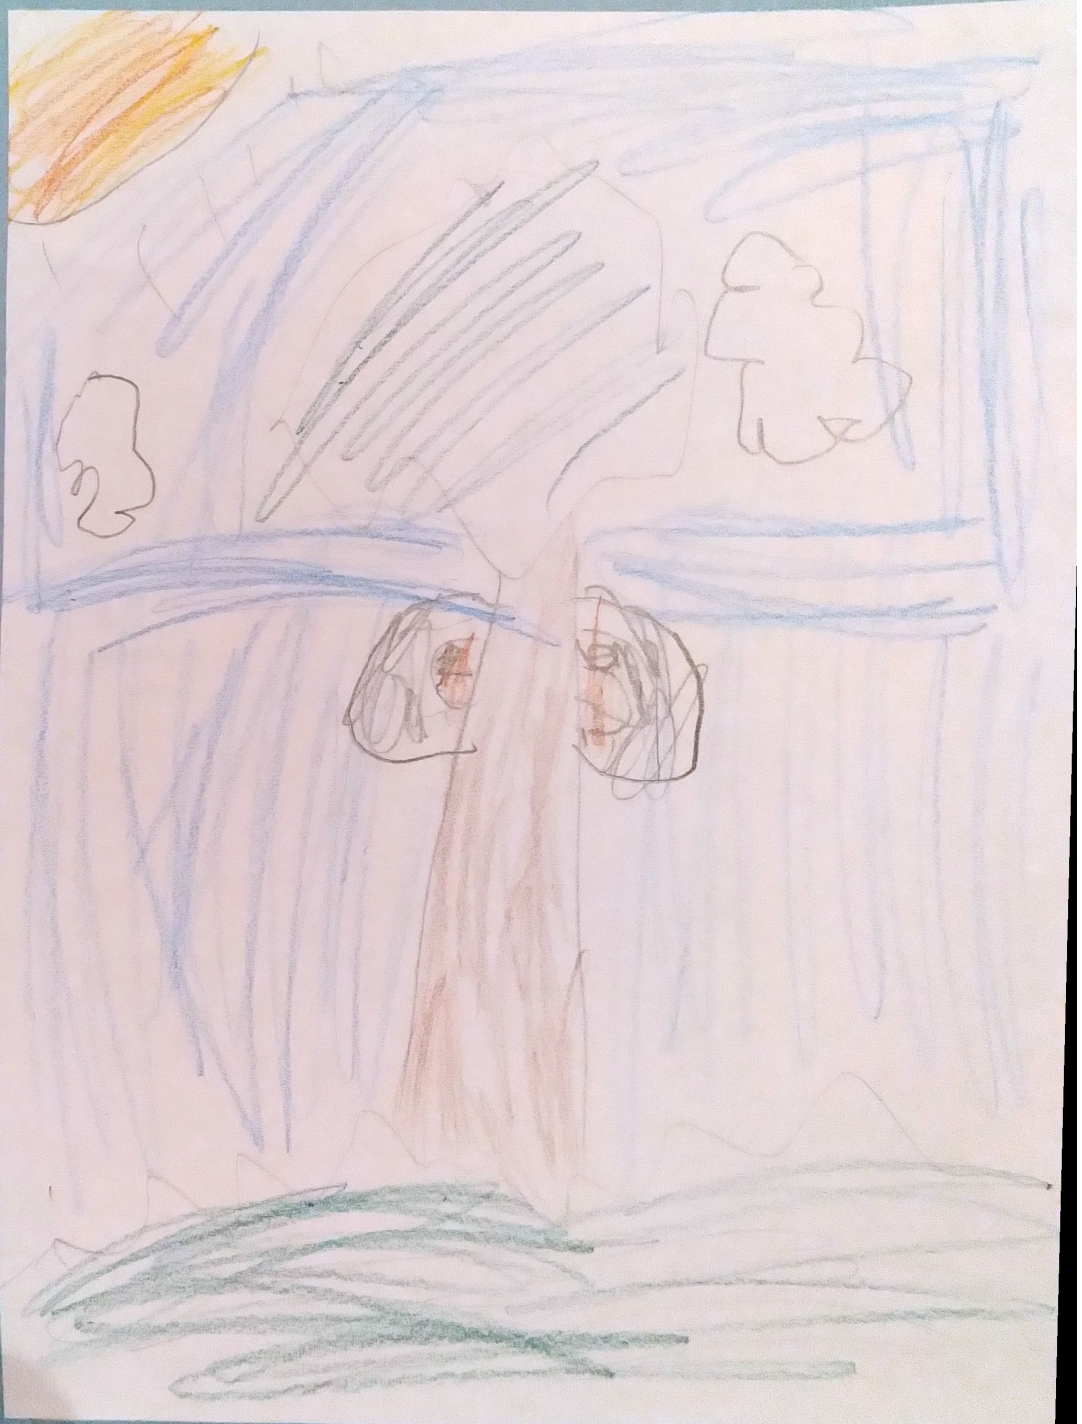
The hands are misising

The set is misising

Graf lokt bi the tree with his long heck and saw thare was a hidowt.







Fox Wyz in hiz Trer hidoet hidenThe miseh prts to mak hiz ov playGrooh.

Graf remembrd Fox from weh thae wr little and wontid to no wi he had all of the Playgrond prts.

Graf told fox That it iz his to shar and he kan kum to The play groona to.

fox rethnd the mising prts and Graf showd him how to be kind and shar.

And Then Fox pidd with hew Frehds and he wuz hot lonle ehemor.

The end

Bednarek Kyzins

Title: Giraffe and Fox

By: Zander and Penelope Bednarek

Page 1: (21 words)
Once upon a time, Giraffe was by the swing eating chocolate. And then he saw a swing was missing. (P)

Giraffe: "What happened?" (P)

Page 2: (37 words)
Giraffe looked by the slide, the monkey bars, the merry-go-round, and the bench. But they had missing parts too. (Z)

Giraffe: "The ladder is missing" (Z)
"The bars are missing" (Z)
"The handles are missing" (P)
"The seat is missing" (P)

Page 3: (21 words)
Giraffe looked by the tree with his long neck and saw there was a hideout. (P)

Giraffe: "I think someone is in there" (P)

Page 4: (26 words)
Fox was in his tree hideout hiding the missing parts to make his own playground. (Z)

Fox: "I want a playground for me and not anyone else!"
"hahaha" (Z)

Page 5: (45 words)
Giraffe remembered Fox from when they were little and wanted to know why he had all of the playground parts. (P)

Giraffe: "Why Fox?" (P)
Fox: "I want the playground to myself" (Z)

Giraffe told Fox that it is nice to share and he can come to the playground too. (Z)

Page 6: (36 words)
Fox returned the missing parts and Giraffe showed him how to be kind and share. (P)

Fox: "I am sorry." "Can I please play?" (Z)
Friends: "Yes!" (P)

And then Fox played with new friends and he was not lonely anymore. (Z)

Word Count: 186